

Farm Bureau Picnic at Forsyth Park Tuesday

Annual Event to Include Band Concert, Horse-shoe Pitching, Tug-of-war, Games and Many Booths—Plenty of Refreshments Will Be Available to All—Everyone Invited to Attend.

The annual Farm and Home Bureau-Chamber of Commerce picnic will be held at Forsyth Park in Kingston next Tuesday, August 28. At the committee meeting last Saturday evening final arrangements were made. The work was divided so as to have a committee for each part of the big affair.

The music will be furnished by the Citizens' Band of Kingston directed by H. G. Malsenhelder. The concert alone will bring out hundreds of people to enjoy the music. It will start at 12 o'clock standard time.

John H. Beatty, an active Farm Bureau worker and a well known farmer, took the post as chairman of the grounds committee, to be assisted by Miss Nance and Mr. Coe. It will be their duty to have everything in readiness for the big crowd. With this efficient committee everybody is assured of all conveniences possible.

Policing of the grounds was placed in the hands of C. C. DuMont of Ulster Park. He will work with the corps of State Troopers and Kingston police.

Athletic Activities
Sam Bernstein, Jr., a well-known business man in Kingston, will have charge of the games. Everybody knows how capable he can handle activities of this kind. Under his guidance all who enter, as well as the spectators, should have a good time.

Albert Kurdt, the manager of the Farm Bureau, has been appointed chairman of the horse-shoe pitching. He will be assisted by Frank DuPont, one of the leading horse-shoe pitchers of Kingston. In all probability a new and up-to-date court will be available for this event.

The Grange tug-of-war will be an interesting event. Stone Ridge now has possession of the cup which goes to the winning team. New Paltz also has a leg on this cup. All Granges in Ulster county are invited to participate and have a team present.

Plenty of Refreshments
As usual the Home Bureau will take care of the guests with sandwiches, refreshments, candy, coffee, cake and hot dogs. Ice cream, pop and tobacco will also be available. Everyone will be assured of sufficient lunch and refreshments, even though anyone should not bring their own.

Everybody is working very smoothly under the general supervision of E. W. Hathaway, to make this a very successful event. An information booth equipped with a telephone will be on the grounds. The Fish and Game Association will have a very interesting booth. It will contain trout and live birds. Many business men and companies will have exhibits which will be of interest to everyone.

Everybody is Invited
Everybody is cordially invited to participate in this day of entertainment and pleasure. Admission is free. Be on hand to meet your friends, they will all be there. This picnic has become a huge county reunion for country and city folks. You cannot afford to stay away from Forsyth Park on August 28. Come in the forenoon and stay all day.

"Dry" Agents Raid Bottling Plant

Prohibition agents from the Kingston office paid a visit to Hunter on Wednesday where they visited the Kardon Bottling Company plant on the state highway at Hunter. The bottling plant supposedly engaged in bottling soft drinks but when the agents called they found a large quantity of alleged high power beer occupying bottles which should have contained soft drinks. The Federal men took samples of the beer and then destroyed the remainder. The plant was located on the Gordon farm.

The owner of the plant, Abe Kardon, was placed under arrest by the agents, charged with illegal possession of beer. He will be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Arthur C. Connolly on August 27 at 10:30 o'clock.

The alleged high power beer which the agents found on the premises in bottles was capped with various forms of soft beverage. The use of soft drink caps and labels in this way constitutes a violation of the federal law and it is probable that this violation will be referred to the proper authorities. Several of the bottles containing soft drink caps were taken by the agents who visited the premises and undoubtedly will be used as evidence.

Cars in Collision
The automobiles driven by C. Rittenbury of Woodstock and Joseph Michels of St. Remy collided at the corner of Broadway and Henry street Wednesday evening. The occupants of the cars were not injured. Fenders on both cars were damaged.

WOMAN MISSING SINCE JULY 27 VAINLY SOUGHT

Harry Pack, whose wife disappeared on July 27 while he was working as a chef in the Broadway Restaurant, Tannersville, has since continued a search, but owing to the meagre clues left to trace her his search has been in vain. Her father, who lives in New York city, has brooded over her disappearance and is now critically ill. Information concerning the woman will be greatly appreciated by the family of Mrs. Pack.

The missing woman is described as being very stout, weighing 220 pounds. She is about five feet, four inches in height and her hair is light colored. Mr. Pack believes that she has obtained a position as cook or kitchen maid in some hotel or boarding house as that is the type of work she knows best.

SEARCH FOR COOK WHO MURDERED TEN COUNTRYMEN

Fairfield, Cal., Aug. 22 (AP).—Many residents of Solano and Napa counties were practically in a state of siege in their homes today while police scoured the countryside for Loy Young, the Chinese cook who yesterday murdered 10 of his countrymen on a ranch near here.

Young fled in an automobile after running amuck with a hatchet and rifle. Authorities believed he had robbed some of his victims and was well supplied with money.

Police said Loy Young had a reputation as a killer and had boasted of taking three lives in a long war. Officers could find no motive for the killings except to suggest that he might have become crazed by use of narcotics.

Opposed to Return of Saloon.
"There is no question here of the return of the saloon. When I stated that the saloon is and ought to be a defunct institution in this country, I meant it. I mean it today. I will never advocate or approve any law which would bring back the saloon."

Curtis Promises Tariff Revision Smith Favors Modification of 18th Amendment

Republican Party Promises Full Protection to Products of Factories, Farms and Mines—Democratic Tariff Measures Have Injured or Destroyed Legitimate Business.

Rocky Point, R. I., Aug. 23 (AP).—Revision of the tariff to afford "full protection" to industry, agriculture and labor was promised by Senator Curtis, the Republican vice presidential nominee, in opening the eastern campaign for his party here today at a Republican rally.

"The Republican party promises," he declared, "to revise the tariff so that the products of our factories, the products of our farms and the products of our mines will be fully protected and so that American labor will continue to be protected."

The Kansas Senator emphasized that agriculture demanded increased duties on farm products. After citing the Democratic attitude on the tariff as expressed in the party's platforms from 1892 to 1928, he asserted that party "now hopes to fool the American people by its claim that it will favor an equitable distribution of the tariff benefits and burdens among all."

Republicans, he said, are proud of their record of the last eight years and go to the people on that record. He stated that the national debt had been reduced by about $7,000,000,000 and that taxes have been cut four times in that period. He declared the party "stands by the policies of President Coolidge and if elected will carry out those policies."

Hoover Knows Farmers' Conditions.
He spoke of Herbert Hoover, the Republican presidential nominee, as one who "knows the condition of the American farmers, of American labor and of American business men, and has their future welfare at heart."

"We, of the agricultural section," Senator Curtis said, "are deeply interested in the question of imports. We need protection for the products of the farm, just as you need protection for the products of your factories. Do you know that even now the imports of agricultural products displace the American farm production in excess of 60,000,000 acres? The value of such imports amounts to over $3,000,000,000 annually, of which over $2,000,000,000 are products which can be grown on our own farms. We want protection of all competitive products of the farm, many of which are now let in at too low a rate of duty."

Some Duties Not High Enough.
"In the Republican acts, products of the farm have been protected. Time has demonstrated. I am sorry to say, that some of the duties are not high enough. I challenge a comparison, however, between the rate of duty fixed in the Democratic tariff acts, the Wilson and Underwood acts, and those of the Republican tariff acts."

"Democrats have never enacted a tariff law which protected American labor. They have never passed a tariff law which did not injure or destroy legitimate business; they have never enacted a tariff law that protected the products of the farm. In fact, in all their tariff measures the large majority of the products of the farm were put upon the free list. They can not mislead the farmers of the country by their claim that they will favor an equitable distribution of the benefits and burdens among all."

"The people of this country know where the Republican party stands on the matter of tariff, where it has always stood and where it will always stand."

Democratic Stand on Tariff
He went over the Democratic tariff pronouncements since 1932 in detail, declaring the Democrats opposed tariff save for revenue only. He said the Underwood-Simmons tariff of 1914 "either injured or destroyed business."

Coming to this year, he said: "In 1925 they declared that 'the Democratic tariff legislation would be based on the following policies:—The maintenance of legitimate business and the high standard of wages for American labor; duties that will permit effective competition, insure against monopoly and at the same time produce a fair revenue for the government; the actual difference between the cost of production at home and abroad with adequate safeguard for the wage of the American laborer must be the extreme measure of every tariff rate. Equitable distribution of the benefits and burdens of the tariff among all.'"

"With this record on the tariff the Democrats hope to fool the American people."

Says Question of Change Should be Submitted to People—Believes in Amendment Which Would Give Individual States Right to Manufacture Alcoholic Beverages for Sale by States.

Albany, Aug. 23 (AP).—With all the force at his command, Governor Smith last night told an expectant nation what he would do if elected President. In aggressive fashion, he accepted the Democratic nomination with a speech which not only set forth his stand on prohibition, agriculture, foreign relations and other public questions, but accused the Republican administration of a failure to keep faith with the people.

"As millions listened-in by radio, the new leader of the Democrats advocated modification of both the Volstead Law and Eighteenth Amendment; reiterated that he would give the problem of controlling crop surpluses his immediate attention, if elected; assailed the administration's Nicaraguan and Mexican policy, and pledged himself to a 'real' endeavor to outlaw war."

He also called for a reorganization of federal government activities on a business basis; declared that neither he nor the Democratic party contemplated "sudden or drastic" changes in tariff schedules; reaffirmed his stand for public ownership and control of waterpower; promised a square deal for war veterans; stressed the need for inland waterway development, reforestation and conservation of natural resources, and advocated "progressive legislation for the protection and care of working men and women."

While standing "squarely" on the Democratic platform declaration for restrictive immigration, the nominee asserted that he was "heartily in favor of removing the harsh provision which separates families," and was "opposed to the principle of restriction based upon the figures of immigrant population contained in a census thirty-eight years old."

His Stand on Prohibition.
Half way through his address, which he had prepared with the idea of completing its delivery within an hour, Governor Smith tackled the prohibition question. He never will advocate or approve any law, he said, which directly or indirectly permits the return of the saloon, and sale of intoxicants by state agencies was proposed as an alternative.

Declaring that the President of the United States has two constitutional duties with respect to prohibition—enforcement of the law and a determination of what changes, if any, should be recommended to congress, the nominee made this pledge: "I shall to the very limit execute the pledge of our platform 'to make an honest endeavor to enforce the 18th Amendment and all other provisions of the federal constitution and all laws enacted pursuant thereto.'"

Then he added: "The President does not make the laws. He does his best to execute them whether he likes them or not. The corruption in enforcement of activities which caused former Republican prohibition administration to state that three-fourths of the dry agents were political ward heelers named by politicians without regard to civil service laws and that prohibition is the 'new political pork barrel' I will ruthlessly stamp out. Such conditions cannot and will not exist under any administration presided over by me."

Insisting that the present legal definition of the alcoholic content of an intoxicating beverage is "admittedly inaccurate and unsatisfactory," Governor Smith expressed the view that "some immediate relief would come from an amendment to the Volstead law," which would permit each state to fix its own standard of alcoholic content, "subject always to the proviso that that standard not exceed the maximum fixed by congress."

Popular Vote on 18th Amendment.
"I believe moreover, that there should be submitted to the people the question of some change in the provisions of the 18th amendment," the nominee went on. "Certainly, no one foresaw when the amendment was ratified the conditions which exist today of bootlegging, corruption and open violation of the law in all parts of the country. The people themselves should, after this eight years of trial, be permitted to say whether existing conditions should be rectified."

"I personally believe in an amendment in the 18th amendment which would give to each individual state itself only after approval by a referendum popular vote of its people the right wholly within its borders to import, manufacture or cause to be manufactured, and sell alcoholic beverages, the sale to be made only by the state itself and not for consumption in any public place."

"We may well learn from the experience of other nations. Our Canadian neighbors have gone far in this manner to solve this problem by the method of sale made by the state itself and not by private individuals."

Opposed to Return of Saloon.
"There is no question here of the return of the saloon. When I stated that the saloon is and ought to be a defunct institution in this country, I meant it. I mean it today. I will never advocate or approve any law which would bring back the saloon."

R. O'Sullivan Dies at His Home

Noted Railroad Executive and Civil Engineer Retired Six Years as Superintendent of Ulster and Delaware—Placery Civil Engineer.

Richard O'Sullivan, widely known retired railroad executive and pioneer civil engineer, died this morning at his home, 12 President's Place. Forced to resign as superintendent of the Ulster & Delaware railroad six years ago, Mr. O'Sullivan never recovered his full strength and during these years of illness his jovial spirit was very pronounced and highly praised by his many friends and well wishers.

Born in Mallow, Ireland, in May, 1857, Mr. O'Sullivan came to this country at the age of ten years, his parents taking up their new home in Hoboken, N. J. Following the completion of his education in the public schools of Hoboken and at Cooper Institute of New York, he was graduated as a civil engineer. From 1876 to 1884 he had been engaged successively in the location of the following enterprises: The first Hudson River Tunnel, the Third and Ninth Avenue Elevated Railroads in New York, the Elizabeth City & Norfolk Railroad in Virginia; the N. Y., W. S. & H. Railroad and the Southern Pennsylvania Railroad.

Coming to this city 47 years ago he accepted the position of engineer to the roadmaster of the West Shore Railroad, which he filled for several years, when he was appointed roadmaster of the Walkkill Valley Railroad, remaining until January, 1899. He was then appointed division engineer of the West Shore Railroad, New York and Albany. He resigned this position in June of the same year to accept that of assistant roadmaster. In August, 1906, he was promoted to the assistant superintendency of the Ulster and Delaware.

During the World War when the government took over the railroads Mr. O'Sullivan was promoted to general manager of the Ulster & Delaware. Before his retirement and after the government released the railroads he acted as superintendent.

Mr. O'Sullivan married Ella C. Fisher of this city, who survives him besides a brother and a sister.

Fraternally he was a member of Kingston Council, No. 276, Knights of Columbus, and took active part, especially in the charitable work carried on by this organization. He gave of his time generously and was very cheerful. He was also a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church and before illness prevented his participation in the society was very active. When the Holy Name of St. Mary's was reorganized Mr. O'Sullivan was called upon to act as president in building up the new organization. The fruits of his labor live after him as the society today numbers most of the men of the parish.

On Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock the Holy Name Society will meet at the late home to recite the rosary. At 8 o'clock the Knights of Columbus will offer prayers.

The funeral will be held from the late home on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and 9:30 o'clock from St. Mary's Church, where a solemn Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. The interment will be privately made in Montrose Cemetery.

STRAND ENLIVENED BY CONSTRUCTION WORK

The Strand is a busy place owing to the construction work going on there. A force of men employed by Frank S. Campbell, building contractor, are making marked progress on the raising of the structures in preparation for rebuilding the Rondout National Bank. Another group working under the same builder are busily engaged installing a new front in the dry goods store of Salim Krayem.

HEAVY TRAFFIC ON RHINEBECK FERRY

The Dutchess County Fair at Rhinebeck has greatly increased the business of the Kingston-Rhinebeck ferry. Lines of automobiles may be seen every day along Ferry street, sometimes extending up Hasbrouck avenue. The Kingston police and special officers of the Rhinebeck Ferry Company are used to keep order in lining up cars. Traffic is heaviest between the hours of 10 a. m. and 1 p. m.

CITY HALL SMOKESTACK HAS BEEN COMPLETED

The 160-foot smokestack that has been erected adjoining the water board barn on Jansen avenue and which is part of the new heating system to heat not only the reconstructed city hall but the Central Fire Station and the Municipal Building, has been completed. The four rods on top of the big stack are what are known as lightning arresters.

ADDITIONAL SUPERVISOR AT KINGSTON HOSPITAL

Margaret C. Holmes, a graduate of Columbia Teachers' College, has been secured by the City of Kingston Hospital to act in the capacity of supervisor of nurses at the hospital. The additional supervisor has been made necessary due to the increased number of student nurses now in training at the hospital.

"Baby Smith" Again in Court

Became Famous a Year Ago When Mother Claimed Hospital Had Mixed Babies—"Looks Like Her Mother," Says Father Now.

Cleveland, Aug. 23 (AP).—Miss Anastasia Smith, one year old, might have had a good laugh for herself today had she been able to look back and comprehend all the trouble she caused twelve months ago when the famous Smith baby case at Fairway Park Hospital attracted national attention to her.

All dolled up in a new white dress and a new pair of shoes, Miss Anastasia arrived in the court room of common pleas Judge Carl V. Weygandt. She gave the judge a knowing glance, as though she had seen him somewhere before. Somehow the surroundings of the court room seemed familiar.

And then Miss Anastasia would have remembered all about it had she been able. A year ago she was born in Fairview Park Hospital. At first she was a boy, her mother called her "little son," and even the nurses noted in the hospital record that she was a boy. Then all of a sudden she became a girl.

The discovery just about ostracized her from the family of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith, into which she had been born. In fact, Mrs. Smith insisted that she was not her child at all. A mistake had been made, the grief-stricken mother protested; the nurses had mixed the babies; some one had her boy; she had somebody else's girl.

"Baby Smith," though nameless, endured it all without a whimper while doctors and learned men talked of blood tests and what not. At the wee age of three weeks she was haled into a court room. Upon the bench sat the fatherly judge who listened to the whole story earnestly.

Records, Not Babies, Were Mixed.
"And now," said Judge Weygandt to Mrs. Smith when he had heard it all, "there is scarcely any doubt that the mistake was made in the hospital record and not in the mixing of babies. The nurses who registered your child called her a boy. But all the evidence shows that she was a girl. Take her home and be good to her."

It was the same fatherly judge sitting on the bench, Miss Anastasia might have reflected when she entered the court room for the second time yesterday.

It was quite a surprise to be back—a birthday surprise. Judge Weygandt just wanted to give her a little party on this first memorable occasion, since he had her official clerk. While the camera clicked he presented her with a little blue book showing a bank deposit of $10 in her name.

Sam Smith, the proud parent, pulled Judge Weygandt aside and whispered: "We know you were right. Anastasia was our baby all the time. Doesn't she look like her mother?"

Reckless Driver Is Fined $50

The following cases were brought to trial today in police court, Judge Shufeldt presiding:

John Raheb of Brooklyn, who was arrested Monday at the Rondout Creek Bridge by Officer Murphy charged with reckless driving, was fined $50. Mr. Raheb in driving down the Wurts street hill went over the sidewalk and crashed into the wooden fence on the Dr. J. J. Simonds property at 56 Abel street.

Edward Curry arrested for panhandling Wednesday was given ten days in jail.

Nelson Clough arrested Wednesday for public intoxication, was given ten days in jail. Tuesday arraigned on the same charge he was fined $5.

S. J. Levitas arrested by Officer Boss for passing the traffic signal at Broadway and Foxhall avenue had his hearing adjourned until August 26.

River Gets Instruments

Samuel J. Riber, Strand merchant, recently received a large shipment of musical instruments and has them displayed in his show window. Ukuleles are his specialty and he has a large assortment of them.

Nothing is more dismal and disheartening than a county fair on a rainy day and there was plenty of rain at the annual fair of the Ulster County Agricultural Society at Ellenville on Wednesday, the second day of the fair. In fact there was so much rain that there was no fair, that is so far as attendance was concerned, for evidently everyone knew enough not to even try to see what was at the grounds. Although there was no crowd at the fair the officials did not close up the grounds but permitted those who were foolish enough to pay their admission to wade or swim through the mud on the grounds. Few availed themselves of that opportunity.

Consequently the officials early Wednesday morning decided that it would be wise to continue the fair over one additional day. The fair will be advanced one day and the program for the remainder of the week will be carried out, except that it will be one day late. Wednesday's program was advanced to Thursday and Thursday's program will be carried out Friday and the fair will be continued Saturday with all of Friday's features in effect.

Hot Dog Stands Did Business.
It was so wet Wednesday at the track that practically every concession was closed except the hot dog stands which did a little business. The exhibition buildings were open but many of the booths were deserted and exhibits were missing, probably having been moved to a dry place so that fair visitors on the remaining days of the fair might view unspoiled exhibits.

Although the Ellenville fair might just as well not have been in existence on Wednesday so far as the public was concerned, still the officials were in a rather happy frame of mind. With foresight which in later years has become available the officials carried rain insurance on the day and there certainly was rain enough to collect on any insurance policy.

Midway Impresses Visitors.
The first thing which impresses itself on the fair visitor this year after passing the big mud hole at the entrance to the grounds is the size of the Midway. There are many more fairers this year than ever and there are many more feet of concessions along the Midway which has been moved up at the entrance to the upper end of the track. This feature proved to be so very satisfactory the past season that it was again adopted this year. All of the exhibition halls are centered to the entrance and it is no longer necessary to wait for the old familiar warning of the special policeman to "look out for the horses" while crossing the track. Both pedestrians and vehicles enter the grounds without crossing the track.

Many Notable Changes Made.
Several changes have been put into effect at Exhibition Hall. The fruit and vegetable tent has been abandoned and several of the exhibits are in the main hall. The fruit exhibits are good. Several packs are exhibited in barrels and there are several plate exhibits.

Another thing which is quickly noted is the unusual number of sheep shown this year. Ulster county is evidently coming back as a sheep country.

The Conservation Commission exhibit of pheasants is a very beautiful one and attracts great amount of attention. The brilliant feathers of the birds were one of the few bright spots Wednesday at the grounds.

Poultry, Autos and Cattle
Poultry again is one of the biggest exhibits. All kinds of fowls and pet stock are exhibited at the poultry house just beyond the exhibition hall. Automobiles are gradually coming to be one of the chief attractions at county fairs and Ellenville Fair is not lagging in that respect. Several cars are exhibited including the new Ford which is shown in the main exhibition hall.

Cattle of all kinds are shown in the new cattle barns at the extreme end of the exhibits. That Ulster county is becoming a real cattle county is shown by the number of high grade cows shown.

Dairymen's League Exhibit
In connection with the cattle exhibit it would be well worth while for everyone to visit the exhibit of the Dairymen's Co-Operative League in the main exhibition hall. Several things which go so much into making wholesome milk are shown including the strains of the milk which the milk is strained and the other equipment instrumental in the proper handling of milk.

Some things which were shown Wednesday along with the fireworks and other things will be run over and other things will be run over and other things will be run over.

Otto Bierhals' Fine Exhibition

Pandora Art Gallery Shows New Exhibition for Week—In Offering Woodstock Art at Low Prices—Birks, Markham to Follow.

(By F. G. Clough.)

Otto Bierhals, New Yorker and Woodstocker, is showing about twenty-five of his paintings this week at Pandora's Art Gallery, Woodstock, where are exhibited one-man shows weekly throughout the summer.

Mr. Bierhals has divided his exhibit into small sketches and large canvases, all done in oil. His present exhibit is very friendly; he belongs to the younger independents who are not as well known as they should be, or will be.

This artist's work offers a variety of subject matter; the present collection probably includes some work done a few years back, as well as more recent paintings. While his manner is not especially versatile, his original harmonious color and technique makes his work attractive.

"Corn Shocks" is one of the large canvases, showing sunlight on a corn field in true harvest light, painted with a freshness and vividness which will have wide appeal. "The Hitherland" is another of his large canvases, valued the highest. This picture lacks the frame, and unfortunately one misses that necessary touch. "Water Nymph" shows a nude girl bathing; the figure is artistically clothed in green reflections, is sunshiny dots. Two of his best paintings seem to the reviewer to be "Woodstock Students" and "Symphony in Red". The former presents an interior scene with several figures painted in high lights and presented with an unusual sparkle and buoyancy. The "Symphony" study is a charming still life done in impressive reds, a picture rich in appeal to the quiet emotions, a painting that would add much atmosphere to any room.

In his smaller oil sketches Mr. Bierhals has delightful coloring, freedom of technique, especially notable in "Autumn in Woodstock" and "Over the Creek". These little sketches are very intimate, presented with the frankness of a sincere painter who has an original talent for the sort of thing he has been doing.

Otto Bierhals studied at the National Academy of Design, the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts, later in Munich and Paris. He returned to his home in New York city a few years back; he has been coming to his Woodstock studio for the past eight or ten years. He has received honorable mention at the Philadelphia Academy, exhibited in the National Academy, the New York Water Color Club, the Montclair Art Museum. He is a member of the Art Center of the Oranges and the Sharp Sketch Club of New Jersey.

The sale of his small sketches for $15, $25 and $35 is in keeping with the aim of the Pandora exhibition rooms to present Woodstock Art in such form that the art lovers may acquire individual paintings. This popular shop sold another Ellen Oranget painting this week; here it was that paintings by the late Enoch Vogtland were sold, and where a later showing of the Vogtland paintings will be held at prices higher than during the former showing because the supply has been cut off due to an untimely death of the artist.

The Bierhals exhibit will close August 26 to make way for an eight-day show of paintings by Birge Harrison.

Smith Favors Modification

which directly or indirectly permits the return of the salmon."

Declaring that he believed the motion to propose would be that "which would today be offered by Jefferson, or Jackson, or Cleveland, or Wilson," Governor Smith pointed out that "the platform of my party is silent upon any question of change of the law."

"I personally believe there should be change," he added, "and I shall advise the congress in accordance to my constitutional duty of whatever changes I deem necessary or expedient." It will then be for the people and the representatives in the national and state legislatures to determine whether these changes should be made."

Action on Farm Problem.
Turning to the farm problem, the Democratic standard bearer announced that he proposed "to substitute action for inaction and friendliness for hostility" in dealing with the question.

Recalling that President Coolidge twice vetoed the McNary-Haugen bill passed by a Republican congress, Smith said that "whether the veto of that specific measure was right or wrong, it is undisputed that no adequate substitute was ever recommended to the congress by the President and that no constructive plan of relief was ever formulated by any leader of the Republican party."

Emphasizing the need for cooperative, coordinated marketing and warehousing of surplus farm products, the nominee expressed the view that the Democratic platform "points the way to make the tariff effective for crops of which we produce a surplus."

"Only the mechanics remain to be devised," said Smith, reaffirming an intention of seeking the aid of farmers, economists and leaders in finance and business in the working out of an "economically sound" solution of the problem of handling crop surpluses.

Attacks Prosperity Claims.
At the outset of his speech, the Democratic candidate attacked prosperity claims, declaring that "the Republican party builds its case on a myth."

"The claim of governmental economy is as baseless as the claims that general prosperity exists," he added; "and that it can exist only under Republican administration."

Governor Smith assailed the Republican administration also for failing to carry out governmental reorganization plans, took a shot at the Fordney-McCumber tariff law, and declared that the tariff commission had ceased to function.

"Pay no attention to the Republican propaganda," counseled Smith, "and accept my assurance as the leader of our party that Democratic tariff legislation will be honest. It will play no favorites. It will do justice to every element in the nation."

Assails Foreign Policy.
In assailing the administration's course with regard to Mexico and Nicaragua, the new Democratic party leader said:

"The Monroe doctrine must be maintained but not as a pretext for meddling with the purely local concerns of countries which even though they be small are sovereign and entitled to demand and receive respect for their sovereignty."

Governor Smith declared that the "usefulness" of arbitration treaties as deterrents of war had been "materially impaired by the reservations asserted by various nations of the right to wage defensive wars as those reservations are interpreted in the light of President Coolidge's record."

"I believe the American people desire to assume their full share of responsibility for the administration of a world of which they are a part, without political alliance with any foreign nation," said the nominee. "I pledge myself to a resumption of a real endeavor to make outlawry of war effective by removing its causes and to substitute the methods of conciliation, conference, arbitration and judicial determination."

The Transportation Problem.
In his discussion of transportation, the nominee said that increased railroad and terminal efficiency in the handling of necessities, improvement of highways for short haul, of small bulk commodities, and development of inland waterways would aid in bringing down living costs.

He recalled that as Governor of New York he had expressed a preference for the so-called All-American waterway route through that state in preference to the St. Lawrence project from the Great Lakes to the sea. Reports favoring both routes have been challenged, he said, adding that he would consider it his duty as President to restudy the question "impartially."

Touching on Mississippi flood relief, the nominee expressed the view that the amount appropriated for this work by congress was "too small to make head or start."

"An ounce of prevention," he observed, "is worth a pound of first aid and relief."

The Governor referred to the proposed development of the Colorado river which has been a subject of controversy, revolving around the Boulder dam bill in the river basin and in congress for several years, declaring:

"I am of the opinion that the best results would flow from the setting up of a Colorado river authority, representative equally of all the states concerned. The development should be by the states through the agency of this authority by treaty ratified by congress."

As for Mexico, Smith the nominee said that while retaining government ownership and control he would seek to have it operated so that the original purpose of construction would be achieved.

Information in Labor Dispute.
He also said that undoubtedly legislation should be framed to meet just causes for complaint in regard to the unwarranted issuance of injunctions in labor disputes.

Near the conclusion of his speech, the Democratic nominee made this declaration: "I can with complete honesty make the statement that my nomination was brought about by no promise given or implied by me or anyone in my behalf. I will not be influenced in appointments by the election of a person's vote or dry or soaked, by whether he is rich or poor, whether he comes from a north, south, east or west, or by what church he attends in the worship of God."

WEST SAUGERTIES.

West Saugerties, Aug. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Snyder and son, Mrs. Irene Snyder and Miss Elizabeth Snyder were callers at the home of Mrs. George Burton on Monday evening of last week.

Mrs. Quinn and son are spending a few weeks at the Paul bungalow. Mrs. Peimster was in the city on business last week. She is entertaining a friend for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Knaut and daughter, Mrs. Nummeyer and grandson, motored to Saratoga on Wednesday and took in the races. On Friday they went again and then went on to Lake George.

Mrs. Philip Sinsbaugh and daughter, Myrtle, of Saugerties, with Margaret and Marian Rogers of this place went for huckleberries on the mountain Wednesday.

"SALADA" TEA

STANDARD WARRANTY FOR PNEUMATIC CASINGS AND TUBES

"Every pneumatic tire of our manufacture bearing our name and serial number is warranted by us against defects in material and workmanship during the life of the tire to the extent that if any tire fails because of such defect, we will either repair the tire or make a reasonable allowance on the purchase of a new tire."

THIS broad warranty against tire defects, unlimited as to mileage or time, is the most constructive guarantee of service ever offered the public.

Frank C. Andrews
Director General, THE RUBBER INSTITUTE, Inc.

THE tire industry has taken great steps forward in the past decade.

Tire quality has been improved immeasurably; tire prices have been reduced to the lowest levels in history.

And now the industry has taken another great forward step.

The manufacturers of 95% of the tires made in the United States guarantee tires bearing their names and serial numbers against defects for the life of the tire.

What an improvement this is over the old days of the now out-worn "definite mileage guarantee."

The era of the mileage guarantee came to an end when users realized that good tires are made of rubber and cotton—not printed promises.

They discovered that "there are no miles in a bottle of ink."

They discovered that you cannot put mileage into tires by written guarantees—it must be built in. No mileage guarantee will hold the tread to the carcass—nothing but craftsmanship does that.

They discovered that no mileage guarantee will toughen the rubber or strengthen the cotton cord—only the know-how of experienced tire builders does that.

They discovered that no mileage guarantee will extend the life of a tire to its utmost capacity—only good driving and care for your tires does that.

On the other hand, car owners found that the definite mileage guarantee had these failings—

- 1 It benefited the driver who misused his tires and misrepresented his mileage, at the cost of the honest and careful driver who did not abuse his tires, and who was truthful in stating his mileage, or honest in admitting he did not know his mileage.
- 2 It put a premium upon hoodless driving by removing the penalty for traveling with tires under-inflated or wheels out of line.
- 3 Its cost was a buried expense that bore on the user of the tires without adding any commensurate value.

The first year following the elimination of the definite mileage guarantee, over thirteen million dollars was saved by doing away with adjustments against neglect and abuse of the careless driver, and was put back into the pocket for the benefit of all drivers alike.

The industry simply converted non-productive cost into good sound rubber and cotton. Every user benefited equally; tire prices came down; tire quality went up. Today the American tire user is enjoying the lowest-cost tire miles in the history of the world.

The high quality of present day tires has made possible the prevailing standard tire warranty, extending over the life of the tire—the broadest and most constructive guarantee of service that can be written—a declaration that enables the manufacturers of over 95% of the production in the country to stand squarely behind the quality and serviceability of their products, as they wish to stand.

Divergent Views On Smith Speech

Factor and Confusion Without Reservation to Longest Duration—Speech Also Called Some Party Defections—Prohibition and Farm Relief Bills of Next Session.

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP).—From many parts of the country, commenting on Governor Smith's acceptance speech, praised or found fault as their conception of government guided them, but the expressions were accompanied by a good deal of partisan opinion that he had stated frankly his position on the foremost issues of the campaign.

As was to be expected, those who praised "without reservation" were Democrats and those who most readily found fault were Republicans. But in this group commencing there were Democrats who refused to accept the business view on prohibition and Republicans who thought his stand on farm relief preferable to that of Herbert Hoover.

The speech caused one Democrat to declare his opposition to Governor Smith's election. A Republican indicated he would support the Governor.

Those who praised without stint were Senators Edwards of New Jersey, George of Georgia, Fletcher of Florida, Caraway of Arkansas, and Representative Bloom of New York. Those who objected to portions of the address were Postmaster General New and Senators Borah of Idaho, Snoot of Utah and Foss of Ohio.

Takes Exception to "Dry" Stand.

Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy during the Wilson administration, and Representative Crisp of Georgia, accepted only the Governor's prohibition views in his praise. George N. Peek, the "normally Republican" farm leader, and former Senator H. C. Hansbrough of North Dakota, a Republican who now is chairman of the Smith Independent League, endorsed Smith's farm relief expression.

Senator Edwards said the Governor's exposition "of true conditions under Volstead prohibition and his brutally frank statement of how he will attack and seek to overcome crime and corruption of the 18th Amendment and its enabling act, if elected President, is most refreshing in this era of Republican straddling, pussyfooting, and hypocritical recrimination against those who honestly seek the light." He added that Governor Smith "conclusively proved" that his political vision extended beyond the state of New York and that he had an understanding of national and foreign affairs "equal to that of any American who ever aspired to the presidency."

Says Assurance Carries Conviction.

Likewise, Senator George saw in the speech a "remarkable grasp of national and international problems." He noted that the Governor pledged enforcement of the prohibition amendment and laws and added: "His assurance that he will ruthlessly stamp out corruption in the enforcement agencies carries conviction." He recognized the right of any Democrat to differ from his view. He assumes full responsibility for his conclusions and proposes specific remedy.

Senator Caraway declared the Governor's farm relief views would have the approval of "every sincere friend of adequate farm legislation," and held that Smith had advanced "every issue with such courage that his political foes will be compelled to admit both his intelligence and his courage."

From Senator Fletcher came this comment: "This speech shows a grasp of national problems that is refreshing, stimulating and inspiring. . . . I anticipate a wave of popular approval that will be irresistible." Representative Bloom described the speech "a fearless exposition of real democracy, devoid of sham and pretense."

Thinks "Dry" Stand Unwise.

Josephus Daniels declared the Governor's prohibition stand was "unwise," but he held the speech otherwise to "ring true upon the fundamentals of democracy."

"Even of Governor Smith's position (on prohibition) were tenable," said the former naval secretary, "the proposal of amending the 18th Amendment is one which is now so impossible of accomplishment that it is nothing more than the expression of a personal opinion."

The other Democratic disclaimer from the Smith prohibition stand, Representative Crisp of Georgia, said the Governor otherwise delighted him on every subject. He declared that as a Congressman he would not vote to carry out the Smith prohibition recommendations.

On the Republican side, Governor Smith's declaration as to the tariff was criticized by Senators Borah and Smoot. The former said the Underwood tariff "which I understand the Governor to specifically endorse" would ruin livestock, dairy, poultry and kindred industries. Senator Smoot, who described the address as "a fairly good Democratic political speech," declared that the Underwood tariff "would have ruined the country if the World War had not occurred."

Senator Foss, the keynote at Kansas City, found that the speech had "the commendable feature of frankness" but assailed among other things the Governor's prohibition stand.

"The Governor's promise to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment in the light of his attitude past and present," said Foss, "is not convincing to the American people."

Postmaster General New said the Smith attitude toward prohibition could mean "nothing else than the repeal of the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Act."

Postmaster General New said the Smith attitude toward prohibition could mean "nothing else than the repeal of the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Act."

Albania Again to Become Monarchy

Country Has Been a Republic Since 1912 But Constitutionally Monarchy—Signs to Be Proclaimed King on Saturday.

London, Aug. 23 (AP).—Ahmed Zogu, 33 year old former mountain chieftain, and more recently president of the republic, will become king of Albania Saturday when the constituent assembly announces restoration of the monarchy. Albania has been a republic since 1917.

Zogu will be known officially as Scanderbeg III, preserving the honored name of the ruling house founded by the prince-general who led the country's successful revolution against Turkish rule in 1443 and ascended the throne as Scanderbeg I.

Announcement that Zogu will be proclaimed king Saturday has been made at Tirana, the Albanian capital. Public demonstrations were staged in various parts of the republic to show that the people are in sympathy with the movement.

That this consent is not unanimous, however, is indicated in a dispatch from Belgrade, capital of Yugoslavia, which asserts it is possible that tribesmen of eastern and northeastern Albania may attempt to interrupt the enthronement ceremonies. These tribesmen are declared to be bitter enemies of Zogu and to be in sympathy with various former deputies and ministers now imprisoned.

Jugoslavia May Make Protest.

The opinion is expressed, frankly in official circles at Belgrade that Italy is creating the new Albanian kingdom to constitute a perpetual menace to Yugoslavia, which Albania flanks on the south. The Yugoslav government, it is declared unofficially, will not object if Zogu is crowned "king of Albania," but in case he assumes the title "king of the Albanians" it most assuredly will voice protest.

Upwards of 500,000 Albanians residing in Yugoslavia now are considered subjects of King Alexander and any effort to bring them even nominally under the rule of King Scanderbeg would be considered cause for objection.

Both Italy and Yugoslavia look upon Albania in its present state as a menace to their frontiers.

Formerly Part of Turkish Empire. From 1431, when the Turks captured Yanina, until November 28, 1912, when its independence was proclaimed at Valona, Albania constituted part of the Turkish empire, save for two brief periods of autonomy.

On December 20, 1912, the London ambassadorial conference recognized the principle of Albanian independence and approved the offer of the crown to Prince William of Wied.

After the outbreak of the great war, Prince William and his advisers left Albania, which relapsed into a state of anarchy. On June 3, 1917, the commander of the Italian military forces in Albania proclaimed the nation independent and a provisional government was established at Durazzo. A republic subsequently was proclaimed.

Two Local Roads On List for Letting

Among the bids which will be received and opened on September 7 by the State Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, at Albany will be two contracts in Ulster county.

Another section of the Kingston-Ellenville road will be among the jobs. This section, known as Part 3, Highway 141, 3 1/2 miles in length, will be of concrete. The other contract to be let is the Gardner-Kerkonkson highway, Part 1, running from Benton Corners to The Trappe, 4.22 miles in length. This road will be of bituminous macadam and when both sections are completed will give a good highway over the mountains from Gardner in the Wallkill valley to Kerkonkson in the Rondout valley.

Dr. Seoley to Conduct Service.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Seoley have returned from their vacation and Dr. Seoley will conduct the union prayer meeting service in the Fair street church this evening.

the farm leader said, Smith has approved the idea that "a sound way must be found to make the tariff effective on agricultural products with exportable surpluses and that there must be equality of treatment in tariff schedules for agriculture with industry."

Former Senator Hansbrough was equally commendatory on the governor's farm relief declaration.

Woman Democrat Will Bolt.

The prohibition part of the acceptance speech, however, caused a defection from Democratic ranks. Dr. Jennie M. Callias, three times national committeewoman for Nebraska, said: "I shall oppose the election of Gov. Smith because he is opposed to the principles of prohibition and because of his promise to work for its serious modification."

Against this defection was the publication by the Hudson, N. J., Dispatch of a statement accrediting to former Congressman Edward W. Gray, a Republican who ran for the Senate last spring on a wet platform.

"I cannot find it possible as a life-long Republican," the newspaper quoted Gray, "to endorse Herbert Hoover."

But who knows but that the comment that interested Gov. Smith most was the simple declaration that came from the woman who has been his political program with the greatest intensity.

Pay Heavy Tribute On Kosher Poultry

Federal Officials Claim So-Called Poultry Trust Fixes Prices and Thereby Multiplies Public of $18,500,000 Annually in New York Area.

New York, Aug. 22 (AP).—A tribute of $18,500,000 a year is levied against consumers of Kosher poultry in the New York area by the so-called poultry trust. Federal officials asserted today.

Seventy-one men will be arraigned before Judge Julian Mack tomorrow on information filed by the government charging criminal violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. Government agents characterize the trust as a gigantic conspiracy to mislead the public by means of price fixing, restraint of trade, and threats, violence and intimidation directed against dealers who refuse to follow the bidding of the trust.

The government charges that owing to the trust's machinations consumers have been forced to pay an overcharge of from 7 to 16 cents a pound on spring chicken and in addition dealers have been forced to pay

Generous applause was given the songs, novelty offerings and exceptionally humorous jokes. Dancing to the music of Ernie's orchestra was enjoyed following the show.

Miss Adeline Walker, coach of the show, has received many compliments for the way in which she prepared the various vocal soloists, dancers and black-faced comedians for their roles. She has received the commendation of a number of professional stage folk, who enjoyed the show.

The Rev. William P. F. Dooley in a talk following the minstrel expressed his sincere thanks to the large audience for their patronage, also to Miss Walker and the performers for their fine work.

WILL SHOW MODEL MILK HOUSES

The importance of properly cooled milk in relation to the income of the dairymen is a subject that will be especially stressed at the exhibit of the College of Agriculture in the Dairy Building at the New York State Fair.

The exhibit will be elaborate in detail and will be conducted under the supervision of trained workers. The cooling of milk will be accomplished by means of a prime barrel and the necessity of keeping the milk cooled while it is cooling and having the cooling agent on a level with the milk inside the can will be shown by means of thermometers showing the varying temperatures of milk during the cooling process.

There will be charts, drawings and models of simple milk houses with a demonstration of the method of constructing a milk tank of a permanent and inexpensive type within the milk house.

Smith Happy Over Crowd's Reaction

Rain Forced Scrapping of Notification Plans and Acceptance Speech Is Delivered Indoors—Appearance Afterwards Outdoors to Thank Crowd Standing in Rain.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP).—Somewhat disappointed over the restricted manner in which his notification had to be conducted, but nevertheless happy over the way the crowd reacted to his acceptance speech, Governor Smith turned toward New York today to begin laying the foundation of his campaign for the presidency.

Arriving there late today, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, the Democratic presidential nominee planned a visit to national committee headquarters to talk over with party leaders tentative plans for a stump-touring itinerary.

An uninterrupted rain, not heavy, but enough to soak through, if one remained out in it long enough, forced a last minute scrapping of the elaborate preparations made for Governor Smith's notification on the east steps of the Capitol late yesterday. It had to be held indoors—in the small and stuffy Assembly Chamber where the nominee began his legislative career 25 years ago. While touched by the familiar scene, the governor thought sympathetically of the thousands outside on the lawn in the rain, and after running through the long outline of his stand on the issues of the day, including his advocacy of a modification of the dry laws, he went out to the drenched but cheering crowds and thanked them for standing by to the last to hear his message.

Surrounded by members of his family, his running mate, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, and many party leaders and friends, the nominee delivered his acceptance speech to a crowd of only a few thousand inside the Assembly Chamber. An emergency radio hookup, however, carried the message to the crowds outside and to every corner of the land.

Frequently Halted by Applause. The Governor frequently halted the applause that rang through the crowded chamber by holding up his hand. Outdoors the handclapping and cheering greeted almost every subject he touched on—as he promised, if elected, to give the farm surplus crop problem his immediate attention; as he assailed the Republican administration on many scores, particularly its Latin-American policy; as he pledged himself to a "real" endeavor to outlaw war, and as he opposed the basing of immigration quotas on a census 35 years old.

Also meeting with applause were his statements against any "sudden or drastic" changes in the tariff; for maintaining public ownership and control of water power resources; his references to labor, veterans, conservation, government department reorganization, and his emphasis that his appointments, if he were elected, would not be influenced by a person's wet or dry attitude, financial or sectional considerations, or religious affiliations.

Governor Smith was given an ovation of almost four minutes duration as he rose to deliver his speech, and was forced personally to quiet the storm of howling in the balconies and a lone cowbell clanging from a lofty perch in the midst of a group of flashlight photographers.

Notified by Senator Pittman. Previously, Senator Pittman of

Nevada had notified him that he had been chosen "commander-in-chief of the hosts of democracy, with full confidence that you will carry our banner to victory."

Reaching the name of Woodrow Wilson in his notification address, the Nevada Senator paused for some handclapping, and as this died down, someone bawled out into the stillness:

"At is greater than them all!" Speaking at the rate of more than 100 words a minute, and with few pauses, Governor Smith frequently paused to drink some water. He took an hour and fifteen minutes to complete the address.

Thanks Crowd Standing in Rain. After it was over he walked out to the east steps to thank the crowd still standing in the rain.

"There have been many times when I have regretted the inadequacy of the Assembly chamber," he said, "but that inadequacy never was so forcefully borne in upon me as tonight."

"I watched them building the platform: I saw it grow from a thing of rough planks to its present finished state, and I kept figuring to myself every day what a good time I was going to have Wednesday night."

"Well, it was ordered otherwise, but I am given to understand that you heard it all anyway—through the horn."

"Senator Pittman told you, at the conclusion of his speech that I would come down here and speak to you for a few minutes. That's why I'm here; what I want to do is to introduce to you some of the figures you listened to over the microphone, so that you will know what they look like."

The nominee then introduced Robinson, Pittman and Chairman Raskob of the national committee. Then a voice came up from the drenched throng.

Hat and Voice Ruined. "I ruined a perfectly good hat coming here to hear you tonight, Al."

"Yes, and I'm ruining a perfectly good voice trying to tell you about it," the governor shot back, "furthermore," he said, "you'll only need that hat until September 1st, but I'm going to need this voice for two and a half months."

That ended the show.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception was good Wednesday afternoon and evening. The big feature was Governor Smith's speech of acceptance, which was clear the greater part of the time. The band music preceding the speaking was especially fine. The speech came clearest from WEAF. WGY distorted at times.

For those who did not care for speeches the programs of WCAM and WLS afforded a welcome relief. DX reception was fine and stations heard included KDKA, WLV, WSAI, WTAM, WJRM, and WJR.

The singing of "Patience" on the WEAF chain was even better than the Palmolive program.

Indian war whoops will pierce the air on Tuesday night when an episode from "The Last of the Mohicans" is broadcast as a Socoyland Sketch. This masterpiece by James Fenimore Cooper will go on the air at 7:30. The sketch tells of the perilous passage of Major Heyward with the two daughters of General Munro from Fort Edward to Fort William Henry on Lake George, during the French and Indian wars, in 1757. The Indian guide proves false and they are rescued by a backwoods scout, Hawkeye, who with the aid of two Mohicans, Uncas and his father, bring the party safely to Fort William Henry. The book was written by Cooper in 1826, while he was residing in New York city. It took but four months to write.

ZENA COUNTRY CLUB "CELEBRATION SUCCESSFUL"

Zena, Aug. 21—The Zena Country Club celebration Saturday, August 18, was very successful. Very few but the home folks turned out for the afternoon program. There was an exceptionally large gathering at the dance in the evening. Music was furnished by Pete Boice and the club orchestra and the floor was crowded at all times. In the afternoon there were games of all description and the old as well as young took part in the backyard golf. There were many "champions." The many committees deserved special commendation for the splendid arrangements and good work.

Barbara and Cynthia Capps are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Anne Bronson.

Miss Carrie and Nellie Carnick and Miss Dorothy and Ann Allen are motoring through the northern part of New York visiting Niagara Falls and other places of interest, coming home by way of Canada.

Many are looking forward to a pleasant week end over Labor Day and much company is expected.

There will be a dance at the Zena Country Club on Saturday, September 1, and music promises to be especially good. Pete will be there, too.

Gardner Simms motored to New York Monday evening.

Charles Krause and daughters of Mr. Vernon are visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krause.

GERMANY'S NAVY BEING REBUILT

Huge Sums Spent to Give Nation Efficient Fighting Fleet.

Berlin—Germany's navy, sunk, surrendered to the enemy or scrapped after the war, is being rebuilt at a surprising rate. Large sums are being spent by the German government and by German taxpayers to equip the nation with an efficient fighting fleet.

The German naval budget, amounting to 221,000,000 marks this year, is larger than that of Italy and falls short of French naval expenditures by only about 20,000,000 marks. This surprising fact is explained by German naval experts to numerous financial disadvantages to which the German navy is subjected, and to which other important navies are immune.

Battleship Modernized.

The cruiser Koeln, launched a few days ago at Wilhelmshaven, is the latest addition to this country's war-time forces. During the last three and a half years Germany has quietly and without causing a large splash put four new cruisers and twelve destroyers into commission. Six armored battleships have been modernized at a substantial cost.

They have been equipped with new machinery and they have acquired antiaircraft guns. The old 11,800-ton battleship Zechingen has been transformed into a wireless controlled target ship at a cost of 2,500,000 marks. Finally, the reichstag has appropriated the first quota of 80,000,000 marks for the construction of a new 10,000-ton armored cruiser, which is to be the first of a series of four similar vessels.

Nineteen fighting craft, constructed or approved by Germany since 1924, are costing the country 570,000,000 marks, a sum which will be increased to 630,000,000 marks as soon as the vessels now included in the German naval program have been built.

"Minor" German naval expenditures embrace 10,000,000 marks for the dredging of a new channel at Wilhelmshaven, the North Sea naval base, and correspondingly large sums for experiments with oil-driven engines, guns, torpedoes, explosives, signaling apparatus and mines.

An English naval observer recently pointed out the astonishingly high cost of each German fighting ship as compared with a British warship. He estimated the cost of the projected 10,000-ton German cruiser at two-thirds the cost of U. S. S. Hood, a vessel of 41,200 tons.

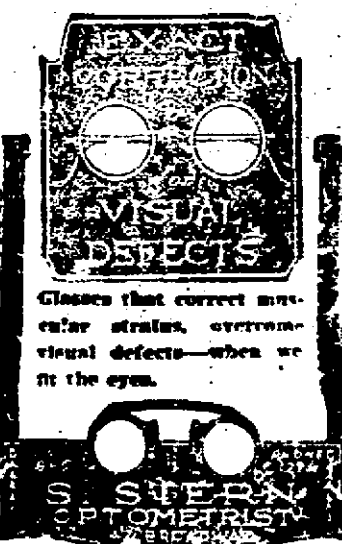

Germany's new 6,000-ton cruisers are costing 60,000,000 marks each, of which 12,000,000 marks are alone devoted to armament.

Treaty Limits Size.

These are big outlays and the supposition is justified that Germany is injecting a maximum fighting efficiency into every inch of the new warships. The size of which is limited by the Versailles treaty.

In view of the recognized importance of submarines and aircraft in any future war, it must be admitted, however, that Germany's fighting ability is impaired by the complete lack of both of these weapons, which are forbidden to Germany by the peace treaty.

Germany has not yet built as many fighting ships as the treaty allows, and the navy still includes antiquated vessels, twenty-five to thirty years old, although the treaty permits Germany to replace them at the age of twenty. The government will continue naval building and is determined to maintain the efficiency of each fighting unit at the highest possible point.

Belle in Quest Of Fifth Husband

When He Wanted to Split Down, He Was Discharged—While Given Qualifications Required of New Husband.

Chicago, Aug. 23 (AP).—Belle Livingston, who was found beneath a huge sunflower plant years ago in the back yard of John E. Graham, then mayor of Emporia, Kansas, is here today seeking her fifth husband. And she declares she will go to California or China to "get her man," if she can't find him here.

Belle was adopted by Mr. Graham and was educated in a convent at Oldenburg, Ind., until she ran away to become a musical comedy trouper. There she met her first husband, Richard Waring, Chicago. A divorce a year later and a settlement for $150,000 afforded her a trip to Europe where she coined the phrase "spend it while you have it."

With her finances gone she accepted the stipulations of a wager that she could go around the world with $25 as her stake. She won $25,000, and Count Lantini, who became her husband, died.

Then she wrote her autobiography, "The Belle of Bohemia," and subsequently met Edward Mohler, who was then a leading stockholder in the Nickel Plate railroad. Edward Mohler, Jr., of Cleveland was born and is now prominent in affairs of that city, Mrs. Livingston said.

Belle and Mohler separated in 1912 and Col. Walter James Hutchins of London, married her the following year. "I lived with the colonel fourteen years," she told interviewers, but when he wanted to settle down and she wanted to keep on living, I told him he was discharged. He doesn't want to divorce me until I find a new husband," she added.

And the qualifications for the "new husband" Belle says are these: "He must be human, cosmopolitan and understanding and he must have or make as much money as I do."

But she failed to add her formula for making money.

WOMAN AT HER BEST

Who would not prefer a ripe grape to a green one that bites one's teeth.

Better a charming woman of forty-five than a disagreeable one of twenty.

The woman who continues to love keeps her youth because love is the best preservative.

The limit of thirty years of our fathers corresponds to fifty and even fifty-five of today.

In our day there are charming grandmothers who are the envy of their grand-daughters.

A sculptor said: "I do not think women have suddenly become young. I merely believe that I Balzac and men of his time were young in considering a woman old at thirty."

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the large, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit of ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c to-day at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

Front Drape, Unwoven Hem Interesting Features

The front drape and unwoven hem are important features of this handsome afternoon ensemble. The skirt is a black crepe romaine and the blouse is beige satin with long sleeves. The short cape is made of black romaine and is trimmed with light fox fur. A beige felt hat and plain black suede slippers complete the outfit.

PRINTED VELVETS TO THE FORE FOR DRESSES AND COATS—TRANSPARENT VELVET REPLACES VELVETEEN

New York—Just as surely as the printed crepe became a general favorite among fabrics, just so surely do fashion observers expect printed velvet to be accepted for dresses, coats, dresses, and coats. There is, however, still enough of the reason left to enjoy a new crepe costume, even though figured. Among the reasons one feels for Thanksgiving, one is the excellent values it has been possible to obtain this summer, thanks to several causes.

For immediate as well as future wear, a costume that is to all intents and purposes a coat, no matter what its fabric, is commended. Many of these are unlined, being made of reversible materials. Some are self-lined after the new Vionnet manner.

There is a marked difference paid to cuffs, and to all sleeves below the elbow. Some collars lead one to believe that the straight, narrow type is passing. Yokes and capelets have an assured position.

Stunt Flier to Drop 5,000 Feet

Charles De Bever, 22-year-old stunt flier of the Progressive Airways Corporation, which recently established an airport on the Powell property just over the viaduct, will drop 5,000 feet in a parachute at the field on Sunday at 4 p. m. There are a great many Kingstonsians interested in aviation and it is expected that a goodly number will witness the feat.

Mr. De Bever, although a youngster, has had considerable experience in flying. He flies planes for the Paramount film firm and his daring stunts have thrilled many spectators of air circuses. The Sunday afternoon attraction will not only consist of the drop of 5,000 feet in a parachute, but the daredevil aviator will exhibit the effect of a 500-foot drop before the opening of the parachute.

The services of Aviator DeBever are widely sought. This fact will prevent his arrival in Kingston before Sunday afternoon, but in a telephone call from the main office in New York to The Freeman today officials said he would surely be on hand for the stunt flying at Powell field.

Mrs. Bregman Buys Building

The building and property located at 140 and 142 Broadway, formerly used by N. D. J. Murphy as a funeral home, has been purchased by Mrs. Adele Bregman, who is the owner of considerable property in this city. Mrs. Bregman, as she has done to other properties recently acquired, is making a number of improvements to the former Murphy building.

There is room for several stores in the building, which Mrs. Bregman contemplates letting out. What will be done with the rest of the place is not yet known. The upper floor may be fixed up for apartments or made into a manufacturing plant.

Loom Has Played Big Part in Civilization

The Chinese claim that silk weaving was practiced in China in 2500 B. C. and the art of weaving was certainly known to the Egyptians at a still earlier period. Some scholars believe that weaving was invented in Egypt but in all probability it was invented in at least four different places—by a primitive white man, a primitive yellow man, a primitive red man, and a primitive black man. The earliest attempts at weaving were simply the plaiting of grass blades, reeds or rushes, done by hand without the aid of a loom. With the invention of the loom—even of the simplest kind, such as is still used among American Indian tribes of the Southwest—great strides were made in the art of weaving. Our great grandmothers used the hand and treadle loom. The same was in general use until Doctor Cartwright, an Englishman of whom it was said that he had never seen a loom in his life, invented the power loom in 1785. Since his day the loom has been altered and improved until it has now come to a high state of perfection.

Altogether Too Many Tenors on "Pay Roll"

An actor tells this one: "A good many years ago," he says, "a theatrical troupe left Chicago with just about enough money to reach the first stand on their route. After several nights' bad business they found their selves getting deeper in the hole and, being unable to pay the hotel bill, they took the landlord along with them, promising to settle when business picked up.

The company's manager discovered that the landlord sang tenor, and, being short of tenors, they had him sing in the chorus after a few days. Business still continued to be poor, and at the second stand they had to take that landlord along, too. He also sang tenor and was given a job in the chorus. The situation remained the same, and they were soon carrying eight landlords who sang tenor. Finally the manager became discouraged and wired his advance agent, 'Get a rate at a hotel where the landlord sings bass.'—Washington Star.

Control Bean Beetle by Calcium Arsenate Dusts

The Mexican beetle which attacks beans is a leaf-eating insect and can be controlled with calcium arsenate dusts. Either of the following mixtures is effective:

Calcium arsenate 1 pound
Sugar (the finest grade) 1 pound
Hydrated lime 4 pounds
(or)
Hydrated lime 1 pound

The first application should be made when eggs are found on the leaves, and several successive dustings may be necessary to secure proper control. Use at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds per acre. Take care to dust the plants evenly and thoroughly and to cover the under surfaces of the leaves. A dust gun with an Emerson is most efficient in reaching the undersides of the leaves.

MARY'S AVENUE RESIDENTS WIN LONG FIGHT FOR WATER

The water board has a force of men busy excavating a trench on Mary's avenue, between Andrew street and Oak street, in which a water main will be laid. For a number of years the residents in the six houses on that part of Mary's avenue have been fighting to have the water board extend the water main through the street so that they could have city water, but the water board consistently refused to extend the main as there was considerable rock to be excavated in digging the trench. The water board, however, in carrying out its plans for an improved water system decided to extend the water main in that part of Mary's avenue and the work is now under way.

F. Tigan, proprietor of the East Kingston bus line, running from Kingston to East Kingston via the "lower road," says that the route over which he has to travel is in very poor condition. The recent rains played havoc with the roads in the vicinity of the brickyards, while many holes that have existed in the road for some time make riding very uncomfortable. The city repaired the portion of the road which belongs to Kingston some time ago, but rains have succeeded in removing the topdressing.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Aug. 23, (State Department of Agriculture and Markets).—Western New York carrot receipts continued very limited today and the market was a trifle stronger under active trading. Muckland carrots of fancy quality wholesaled at $1.75 per bushel basket. Washed stock realized, $2 @ $2.25.

White cabbage prices further strengthened. Supplies were limited and the demand was fairly good. Upstate New York Copenhagen cabbage in bulk jobbed out on the basis of $40 @ $45 per ton. Cabbage shipments from New York state during the preceding week amounted to 25 cars, as against the movement of 24 during the corresponding week one year ago.

State cucumbers were in liberal supply. The demand was generally slow in a sluggish market. Price changes, however, were small and unimportant. Sales on cucumbers were reported at 75¢ @ $1.75. Dills ranged from $1.50 @ $2.25 and pickles from $2 @ $3.50.

A weaker feeling prevailed on the market for tomatoes. Arrivals from the Hudson valley were limited, but the outlet was light. Twelve-quart baskets from the Hudson valley district peddled out at 75¢ @ $1.25. Offerings in similar packages from the western part of the state changed hands at 75¢ @ $1.00.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 23 (AP).—Stock prices continued to press forward today in the face of heavy selling, inspired by fears of a large increase in brokers' loans, which will be made public after the close. Several of the recent favorites dropped 2 to 4 points to the morning selling, but the heavy accumulation of the motor, copper and food shares kept the general trend upward.

Call money renewed unchanged at 7 percent. Banks called $20,000,000 in loans, but a flood of new money appeared in the market, arousing hopes of a drop in the rate before the close. Time money and commercial paper rates held steady.

With the new U. S. Treasury financing expected shortly, Wall Street does not look for any further hardening of money rates until that is disposed of. The view is held in some quarters that any further increase in money rates here would depress sterling and lead to the importation of gold.

Violent advances occurred in several of the high-priced specialties. Midland Steel Products preferred soared 13 points, Adams Express 12, Purdy Baking preferred 10, Purdy Baking common 8, American Smelting 6, and Standard Milling, Rosalia Insurance, Fidelity, Phoenix Insurance and American Linsed 4 1/2 to 5 1/2.

Heavy buying of Chrysler carried that stock up 4 points to within a fraction of the record high. General Motors was pushed up 3 points and Hupp 2.

In the copper group, Greene Cananea rallied 4 points and Anaconda and Calumet & Arizona about 3 points each. Rails were quiet, although Texas & Pacific made up most of its initial drop of 5 1/2 points by early afternoon.

Early selling was most effective against national tea. Wright Aeronautical, Sears Roebuck, Cudahy and Radio, off 2 to 4 points.

Quotations given by Parker McElroy & Co., members N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York city, branch office, 260 Fair street.

Byrd Expedition Sails Saturday

First of Three Ships Carrying Planes and Equipment for Antarctic Expedition to Leave New York—Byrd Sails in September.

New York, Aug. 23 (AP).—Commander Richard E. Byrd's expedition to the Antarctic gets definitely under way Saturday with the sailing of the barque City of New York.

First of three ships which will carry his planes and equipment to the hopping off place for the pole.

Aboard the stout little ship will be 31 of the 70 men who comprise the expeditionary force, the largest and best equipped ever to date the South Polar Seas on a mission of exploration.

Commander Byrd and the remainder of the party will sail sometime in September on the whaler Larsen and the Chelsea, the other two ships of the flotilla. They will carry with them the expedition's four planes and the remainder of the equipment.

The latest appointed member of the Byrd party, Paul A. Siple, Erie, Pa., Boy Scout, has taken up his duties as orderly to the commander. He was selected from among six Scouts recommended by Boy Scout councils throughout the country as best equipped for the demands of the expedition. He is a freshman at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., and hopes to resume his studies on his return.

He is scheduled to sail on the City of New York.

The City of New York is under the command of Captain Frederick C. Melville, who has been going to sea since he was 13 years of age. He is now 44.

The barque is equipped both with sails and auxiliary engines, but will use her sails whenever possible to conserve the fuel supply. She will proceed down the coast and across the Caribbean to the Panama Canal, thence across the Pacific to Dunedin, New Zealand, a voyage of 9,000 miles. At Dunedin other supplies will be taken aboard for the 3,600 mile voyage to the base at the edge of the Ross Sea.

Copenhagen, Denmark, Aug. 23 (AP).—The Greenland administration has received a message from the sheriff of South Greenland stating that an airplane, believed to be the Greater Rockford, manned by Ben Hassell and Parker Crapper, was sighted Sunday morning along the southwest coast of Greenland.

St. Louis Repays Debt To Lindy With Model Municipal Airport

The city which supplied the backing for Col. Charles Lindbergh's (last) Atlantic flight is repaying its debt of gratitude to him by providing a $2,000,000 municipal airport. Above is a sketch of the airfield plans. Below is an architect's drawing of the proposed administration and station building for the field.

St. Louis, Aug. 22 (P).—St. Louis has begun to liquidate its debt of gratitude to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, which largely will be repaid with the completion of the new $2,000,000 municipal airport.

Hardly had the ink dried on the resolution sheets of the recent vote on airport bonds before construction work had begun. The favorable vote of nearly 5 to 1 was a tribute to the aviation activities of Lindbergh, whose epochal flight to Paris was financed by St. Louisans.

The airfield will be the equal of any in the world, its builders claim. The field contains 693 acres—more than a square mile—and will have a passenger terminal of proportions that a year ago would have astounded the most air-minded of voters. The passenger station will have waiting rooms, a cafe, roof garden and a shed 200 feet wide where planes will take on and discharge passengers. High above it will rise a control tower, office of the field dispatcher. There also will be offices for flying field executives. Hangars, machine shops and buildings for radio and photographic work will be other structures in connection with the airfield. Two airplane manufactur-

Burglars Visit Store and Garage

The Bearsville store operated by F. and C. Shultz was entered some time Tuesday night by burglars who gained entrance by forcing a window. A quantity of merchandise was removed but the amount cannot be definitely learned until a complete check-up is made. So far as is known it is estimated that from $50 to $100 worth of merchandise of a general nature was taken. No money was secured by the burglar.

The Bearsville store is one of the most completely stocked country stores in this locality, carrying a general country store line of merchandise. The diversified character of the merchandise carried in stock made it difficult to check the articles taken. The matter was reported to the sheriff and also to the State Troopers. The Troopers are working on the case.

Burglary at West Shokan.

Bell's Garage at West Shokan was entered by burglars some time Wednesday evening. What is missing is not known until a check up is made. State Troopers are investigating the burglary.

Butler Sees Plague In Amendment

Amelia University Head, who criticized Hoover's Stand on Prohibition and National Defense, raises Smith's Prohibition Plan for Insists on Repealing 18th Amendment.

New York, Aug. 23 (P).—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, Republican, a few days ago wrote a letter to the New York Times criticizing the stand of Herbert Hoover on prohibition and national defense, made the following statement to the New York Tribune on Gov. Smith's plan of acceptance:

The address of acceptance of Gov. Smith is a statesmanlike document, well conceived, well phrased, admirably expressed. It shows a governor at his best—and we New York Republicans know by long experience how good that is. His forthright of the case of the prohibition party in this campaign is on a high plane. This only be met by like or better arguments on a similarly high plane. Of course, the governor's view is a strictly partisan one. On three paramount subjects of culture, foreign policy with respect to international peace, and prohibition, the governor speaks in no uncertain sound. No one will mistake what he means or what he aims to do if elected. His statement of prohibition is frank, constructive and forward-facing. If Governor Smith can bring the prohibition party to the support of the position which he takes on prohibition service will thereby be rendered to the nation. It remains those of us Republicans of the old-fashioned sort who are profoundly interested in fundamental political principles to see whether we can do something with the Republican party.

Would Relieve Difficulties.

The proposed modification of the 18th act is fully within the powers of Congress and would relieve to some slight extent the difficulties to the present situation. It would not, however, reach the root of the matter, which is the Eighteenth Amendment itself. For reasons of moral and political principles which I have frequently given, and which have never been reversed, I urge, and shall continue to urge, absolute repeal of that amendment. Gov. Smith now proposes an ingenious and practicable plan, by amending the Eighteenth Amendment, or returning to those states whose people desire it the authority to control the liquor traffic within their several borders after a fashion which has proven so successful in Quebec and other Canadian provinces.

The objection of the Eighteenth Amendment itself would not be met directly by this method of dealing with the subject. That amendment would remain to plague the constitution with false doctrine for years to come.

It will be most interesting to observe reaction of public opinion to Gov. Smith's definite and reasonable recommendation.

TO CRASHES INTO TREE MAN SEVERELY INJURED

John Marson is in the City of Kingston Hospital where he is being treated for severe lacerations of the head, which are considered serious. Mr. Marson was stopping at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The injuries resulted when the automobile in which he was riding slipped and struck a tree near the hotel. Rene Lambert of the Stuyvesant Hotel, driver of the car, was unharmed.

Do Unto Your Hands as You Would Have Them Do Unto You

By Edna Wallace Hopper
How many times it is said that a woman's hands betray her age. If this is true, start right now the pleasurable game of betraying your hands. The real truth behind the saying is that your hands will be kind to you if you show them a little consideration.

It is simple. I know that my hands have responded marvellously to it. Every time I wash them, in my theater dressing room or at the hotel, I promptly counteract the effect of soap and water by rubbing on briskly my Youth Hand Lotion.

This is a wonderful treat to the skin. Even the first application will show you. Your skin will absorb the lotion as quickly as a plant consumes moisture after the rainfall. It leaves your hands smooth and dry, and you can put on gloves immediately after using. Soft, white, lovely hands will be yours. You will realize how much your skin needs this soothing attention.

Always keep a bottle on your dressing table or bath room shelf. And most of all you need one where you work—whether your daily tasks are in the home or elsewhere.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—The fastest girl sprinter in the world is to move still faster. For her seventeenth birthday today, Elizabeth Robinson of Chicago, back from triumph at the Olympics, received a present of a beautiful new sedan from dad. Right off the boat she hopped into the arms of the law. Captain Matt McGrath, of the New York police, a veteran Olympian, presented her to the crowd at the pier and it was noticed that her complexion came from athletics without use of rouge.

New York—Irene Castle McLaughlin, back from abroad, has ceased efforts to be stylish. She says it got to be a perilous business and too much work. Instead of studying fashions in Europe she consulted specialists to obtain information regarding a dog hospital in Chicago.

London—John Bull is sobering up a bit. Convictions for drunkenness in England last year were the lowest in nine years, totalling 65,000, a decrease of 1,900 in a year.

New York—The G. O. P. has 13 Hoover-Curtis band wagons but they are not to be jumped upon. They are red, white and blue motor busses equipped with amplifying apparatus, loud speakers and motion picture projectors.

Berlin—The United States has no representative at the European Film Congress, one of the principal aims of which, in the words of its president, is the suppression of films likely to arouse international hatreds.

New York—For driving too fast in a car with Greta Nissen of the stage and screen, Jack Darcy, artist, is in the hoosegow. He was fined $25 and had the wherewithal. But, as Miss Nissen explains: "Mr. Darcy does not want to be set free. He wants the experience. You see he's never been in jail before."

Pittsburgh—Visitors to Bermuda shortly will have some other method of touring than by bicycles. Pittsburgh engineers have left for the island to do preliminary work for a railroad from Hamilton to St. George.

New York—So beautiful are the hands of Helen Broderick, actress, that she had received $2,500 to go to Paris and pose for Count Schipa De Vittorio, sculptor, who is making a Madonna.

London—There is such a thing as a greyhound changing its spots. After winning a race by ten lengths at Donmore Park a dog was given a bath of gasoline and lost a white tip on its tail and white pads on its feet, thereby being revealed as a dog which had raced under another name.

Ellenville Road In Fair Condition

Those who desire to visit the Ellenville fair will find the road from Kingston to Ellenville in fair condition. Much of the new roadway is complete but some construction will be encountered.

One-way traffic with some delay is encountered between this city and the High Falls road where the concrete has been opened on one side for a distance of two miles. Delays as long as 20 minutes may be encountered.

This delay can be avoided by going by way of Rosendale and High Falls and the distance is but little greater.

Beyond the High Falls road the road is completed for a considerable distance but there is a stretch of some length which is rough where grade has been established and no concrete laid. This section, however, can be negotiated without danger at reduced speed.

By turning off at the bridge in High Falls and taking the Alligerville road, this construction can be avoided. The road, a dirt highway, is in good condition.

TUNNEY IRRITATED BY AUTOGRAPH SEEKERS

London, Aug. 23 (P).—Autograph

seekers have added new irritation to Gene Tunney's already overtaxed patience.

Just when he was stretched out resting in an English railway "carriage," with all his troubles apparently over for the day, at least, the retired champion was discovered by a carload of youngsters from London's slums, returning to their homes after a holiday at Cornwall.

The urchins swarmed through the corridor towards Gene's carriage, yelling like wild Indians and indiscriminately demanding "autographs," while the railway guards sought to herd them back toward the third class coaches.

Tunney signed his name to a dozen slips of paper and sent them to the youngsters who carried them to London's teeming east end as the most prized contributions of their holiday.

Gene was warned that there is no "closed season" on autograph hunting in Europe and was advised that the best solution of the problem is to adopt the method that Bobby Jones, the golfer, used in England. He carried bundles of signed paper which he distributed to the autograph enthusiasts. By this means Jones spared himself the necessity of writing in autograph books which are thrust under the noses of notables here almost constantly.

An optimist is a man who offers odds of ten to one and will bet on either side.

68-NEW SERIES-78

MARMON

firing in line

A lot of interest is again being displayed in what's under the hood, and when the talk becomes at all mechanical, this dominant question is sure to follow: "Is it a straight-eight?"

The straight-eight is smoother, more flexible and easier to drive. Furthermore, it seems to be the one type of design which you can buy today with the assurance that it will not be obsolete in basic design during the lifetime of your car.

Marmon now offers two remarkable straight-eight values—the New Series 68 and 78.

Duwig to Meet Hard Opponent

Eddie Pollio Expected to Give Frenchy Duwig a Tough Game. Studer's Men Shaping Up for Best Battle of Career.

At the armory on Friday night Frenchy Duwig will start up against some real opposition in the person of Eddie Pollio, clever fighter of Brooklyn.

While Duwig has been winning his fights in Middletown and New York lately by knockout route, Pollio has been pushing his opponents all over the ring down in White Plains and Brooklyn.

Both men will find out they are in for a real battle when the time-keeper sounds the gong to start the fight.

"Doc" Studer, trainer for the local boys, is rapidly rounding them into shape and is confident that "Ayers" Duwig, Molvin and Vossick will put up the greatest battles they have ever fought.

Six bouts make up the complete card for which seats can be reserved by calling the armory.

Tagging Major League Bases

By William J. Chipman, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Giants have escaped from Cincinnati and the Cardinals have cleared their premises of Brooklyn marauders—but neither of these events transpired one minute too soon. If things had gone on much longer as they were going, the National League pennant necessarily would have been awarded to the team capable of the most expert back-peddling, which would have brought the Phillies in for serious consideration.

Shaded at Redland Field yesterday by a score of 5 to 4, the cohorts of McGraw slipped into Pittsburgh at dawn today shorn of dignity, but able to walk. The New York expeditionary force still owned a margin over the Cardinals in the pennant race only because the deceitful Dodgers nipped the Red Birds at Sportsman's Park by 3 to 2.

As the Giants entrench themselves for two assaults by the Pirates at Forbes Field today, the suspicion grows that John McGraw jumped from the frying pan into the proverbial fire in moving away from the comparatively peaceful reaches of the American Rhineland. The situation appears even more complex for the Cardinals when it is realized that the Cardinals will be frolicking three times with the Phillies while the Giants are staying off four rushes with the Buccaneers.

If the Cardinals cannot regain first place under these circumstances, there would seem to be small use for them to continue their efforts after Sunday. An even break for the clan McGraw today would restore the leadership to Sam Breadon's boys, who lie idle waiting the arrival of the Phillies tomorrow.

The defeat of the Giants yesterday, the second in three games at Cincinnati, was due largely to Jim Welsh's uncertainty on foot as he dashed after a fly from the bat of Bill Zitzmann with the bases filled in the fifth. The ball fell safe for a triple, and the Giants lost never to regain a lead they had taken in the first half of the same round when Mel Ott drove in three mates with an honest triple.

Doubles by Lindstrom and Terry produced another New York run in the eighth, but Dolph Luga bore down on the next three batters and his danger had passed.

The veteran righthander, Victor Aldridge, showed McGraw some real pitching in his defeat—better than anything seen in his earlier efforts. He and Freddy Fitz held the Reds to six hits, and Aldridge might never have been behind but for Welsh's misstep.

Jess Petty and Watson Clark collaborated in tossing the Cardinals for another loss—the second Robin victory in the three-game series. Between them they gave the Red Birds five hits while their support was pecking at Clarence Mitchell for just enough early runs to eke out a victory.

The Cards bunched doubles by Douthitt, Frisch and Hefay into the sixth inning for both of their scores after having gone hitless for five rounds. Clark then was called in to put down the disturbance.

While the contending teams were so engaged, the Pirates put the Braves to rout again by 10 to 3 in a game which saw the Buccaneers collect 16 hits. These up-and-coming Pirates, incidentally, are only five games removed from the summit, and are intent upon climbing as impossible as it seems.

In the remaining National League game, the Cubs finally broke their Philadelphia jinx after six successive failures. It took all of Art Nehf's cunning to win by 3 to 2 in 12 innings.

The American League's half of the campaign to restore the world series to the basis of a five-cent fare for New Yorkers languished yesterday, thanks to the bat of Mr. Mule Haas, late of Montclair, N. J., but now a resident of Shibe Park, Philadelphia. The Mule plucked one of Johnny Miljus' choice offerings from the ambient with his fat black bat and gave it a ride over the right field fence, winning for the Athletics by 6 to 5 in the 17th inning.

Haas's performance entered a game won into the books for Eddie Rommel, who relieved George Earnshaw after an Indian outrage in the eighth. The smash also enabled the Athletics to share half a game from the lead of the Yankees, who, lying idle because of rain, now have a margin of five games—no mean consideration and less and less mean with every day which passes without its being materially reduced.

The Tigers swept both ends of a bargain at Boston, 7 to 6 and 4 to 2, and the Senators halted the White Sox, 2 to 0, at Washington.
